

Holy Trinity's Intellectual Honesty Policy 2026-2027

All student work for assessment purposes must be the student's own work

Examples of intellectual dishonesty include, but are not limited to, the following:

Plagiarism:

- Copying of or representation of another's work as one's own
- Claiming information from the Internet (including AI) as your own work (duplicating materials)*
- Giving to or receiving work from another student for the purpose of copying
- Copying classwork, homework, or lab work of another student
- Falsification of data, information, or citations

*All information/work that is researched, (i.e. obtained from a source that is not the student) must be properly cited/credited

Deception

- Providing false information
- Giving a false excuse for missed assessment
- falsely claiming to have submitted work

Duplication

- Duplication of any assessment materials
- Unauthorized use of technology to record, digitize, photograph or communicate any assessment materials which include the misuse of Artificial Intelligence (AI) and or the use of smart technology such as cellphones, smart watches, or meta-glasses

Theft

- Theft of any assessment materials
- Being in possession of any secure assessment materials

Cheating

- Disseminating or receiving answers, data, or other information by any means other than those expressly permitted by the instructor (including all acts of collusion)

Students who violate the intellectual honesty policy will have all relevant assessments invalidated (receive a mark of zero) and all cases will be referred to administration for review.
